ABSTRACT

Project Management User Interface on Teras Code Digital Based Mobile is a way to manage resources (human, data, budget) to achieve a project on the Digital Code Terrace based on mobile. The research is uused to fits the budget, and that has been established to be the basis of the management such as interface. If the user has a low cost, then the project managers can adjust to the existing budget. If the user wants to make the project fast, then the client must provide more funds to get those goals. Likewise the quality produced.

In this case, the job of Project Manager is to build and organize the information system from beginning until the project is finished. Which is Project Manager have responsible to organize all about the project till it finished. The existence of this mobile application will facilitate the user to continue to connect with the company, see the progress of the project, and more easily set the meeting schedule. The user interface also makes it easy for clients to check real time anytime and anywhere.
