

CHAPTER V

DISCUSSION

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the discussion in the previous chapters of the e-commerce marketplace Illustrator and Artist, author can draw the following conclusion:

1. Marketplace web information system can be created with the programming language HTML5, CSS3 and PHP.
2. Marketplace web information system features a data processing and display and print reports that computerized.
3. Marketplace web information system features the message, revision, and review so as to facilitate transactions between users.

5.2 Suggestion

In the development of the information system e-commerce marketplace Illustrator and Artist is still a lot that can be developed for future research, such as:

1. The use of payment gateway so as to facilitate the course of the transaction.
2. Features of feed, like and timeline so that users of the website can be interacted with by the user as desired.

Hopefully these suggestions can be used as a useful input for future research.